CONTENTS OF VOLUME LXVII

ARTICLES:

William Stephens and the Georgia "Malcontents": Conciliation, Conflict, and Capitulation. By Carole Watterson Troxler 1

The Loo Chang Case in Waynesboro: A Case Study of Sinophobia in Georgia. By Bess Beatty 35

The Southern Funeral Director: Managing Death in the New South. By Charles R. Wilson 49

Franklin D. Roosevelt and the Architecture of Warm Springs. By William B. Rhoads 70

Laxton, A Study in American Origins. By Edward J. Cashin 88

The South and the Sea: Some Thoughts on the Southern Maritime Tradition. By Emory M. Thomas 159

1779: The First Year of the British Occupation of Georgia. By Martha Condray Searcy 168

Harrison Berry: A Black Pamphleteer in Georgia During Slavery and Freedom. By Clarence L. Mohr 189

Mathematical Backwoodsman of the West: Charles Francis McCay. By James W. Montgomery, Jr., and W. Porter Kellam 206

From Augusta to Columbus: Thackeray's Experiences in Georgia, 1853 and 1856. By Jane Lightcap Brown 305

The Limits of Paternalism: Driver-Master Relations on a Bryan County Plantation. By Charles and Tess Hoffmann 321

Bill Arp and Blacks: The Forgotten Letters. By David B. Parker 336

CONTENTS OF VOLUME LXVII

ARTICLES:

William Stephens and the Georgia "Malcontents": Conciliation, Conflict, and Capitulation. By Carole Watterson Troxler 1

The Loo Chang Case in Waynesboro: A Case Study of Sinophobia in Georgia. By Bess Beatty 35

The Southern Funeral Director: Managing Death in the New South. By Charles R. Wilson 49

Franklin D. Roosevelt and the Architecture of Warm Springs. By William B. Rhoads 70

Laxton, A Study in American Origins. By Edward J. Cashin 88

The South and the Sea: Some Thoughts on the Southern Maritime Tradition. By Emory M. Thomas 159

1779: The First Year of the British Occupation of Georgia. By Martha Condray Searcy 168

Harrison Berry: A Black Pamphleteer in Georgia During Slavery and Freedom. By Clarence L. Mohr 189

Mathematical Backwoodsman of the West: Charles Francis McCay. By James W. Montgomery, Jr., and W. Porter Kellam 206

From Augusta to Columbus: Thackeray's Experiences in Georgia, 1853 and 1856. By Jane Lightcap Brown 305

The Limits of Paternalism: Driver-Master Relations on a Bryan County Plantation. By Charles and Tess Hoffmann 321

Bill Arp and Blacks: The Forgotten Letters. By David B. Parker 336

Expanding Local Resources: The Challenge of Oral History. By Nancy Smith Midgette 350

The "Conscientious Conservatism" of Asa Griggs Candler. By Michael Shirley 356

Georgia Lumber Laborers, 1880-1917: The Social Implications of Work. By Thomas F. Armstrong 435

"Fighting the Devil with Fire:" Carl Vinson's Victory over Tom Watson in the 1918 Tenth District Democratic Primary. By Ralph Reed 451

Review Essay/New Ways of Telling the New South Story: Numan Bartley on The Creation of Modern Georgia. By Dwight B. Billings 480

*Review Essay/*The Roots of Southern Populism. By William F. Holmes 489

The Frank Block Case and the Exercise of Presbyterian Church Discipline. By Harvey K. Newman 503

Georgia History in 1982: A Bibliography. Compiled by James E. Dorsey 512

Book Reviews 98, 215, 366, 546

Book Notes 149, 291, 424, 591

News and Notices 154, 299, 430, 596

Index 601